Art Unit: 2871

The amendment filed 02/14/2003 has been entered. Claims 53, 78, 88-92, 94, 95 and 96-102 are pending in the application.

Claim 95 is objected to because of the typographical error. In line 1, the phrase "claim 78" should be "claim 88 ". In the below rejection, it is assumed that claim 95 depends on claim 88 because of the recited feature "the removing step" of claim 88.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 53, 78, 88-92, 94, 95 and 96-102 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 8-10, 13, 14 and 18 of U.S. Patent No. 7,002,660. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because

13, 14 and 18 of the above patent disclose all the recited features of the instant claims 53, 78, 88-92, 94, 95 and 96-102. Thus, claims 53, 78, 88-92, 94, 95 and 96-102 of the instant application are anticipated by claims 8-10, 13, 14 and 18 of the above patent. As to the recited feature "the first seal comprising an adhesive having mechanical properties for preserving cell spacing between the front and back plates" of claim 53, this feature is inherent with the seal of claim 8 of the patent when the seal is hardening or drying. As to the recited feature "wherein at least some of the electronic circuits remain on the excess display portion after the cutting step", this feature is inherent with the steps "cutting the display along desired dimensions resulting in a target display portion and an excess display portion, thereby breaking the perimeter seal of the display and cutting at least some of the electronic circuits; removing the excess display portion" of claim 7 of the patent. If the excess display portion does not have some of the electronic circuits, the electronic circuits are not cut when removing the excess display portion.

If the obviousness-type double patenting rejection is overcome, claims 53, 78, 88-92 and 94-102 are allowed over the prior art of record.
